DD-T-35 NAM Proper VFD Motor Cable Selection

08/09/2025

This course is designed for anyone interested in understanding what is the best choice of motor cable when used with a variable frequency drive. The target audience for this is the North American markets where no VFD cable standards are in place. It can be used as an introduction to best practices for motor cable or as a refresher for those that have not looked at this topic for some time. It qualifies for (1) Professional Development Hour (PDH).
