

Certificado de conclusão

DD-T-40 Selecting input and output devices with Drives

08/09/2025

This course is designed for anyone interested in understanding the best practices for selecting input and output devices used with drives. It can be used as an introduction to basics of installations and may be useful for those hat have not looked at the material for some time. It qualifies for (1) Professional Development Hour (PDH).

Rodrigo Cominato
